It Started With a Roadside Stop

Nearly a century ago, Ben and Eva Winter opened a small roadside stop outside Emporia, Kansas. It was part lunch counter, part gas station, and part homemade custard stand. They called it “Howdy Come In.”

And people did.

Travelers stopped for fuel, food, or a quick break from the road. But many stayed longer than expected, because the Winters had a way of making people feel like guests, not customers.

One day, a traveling cabinetmaker stopped by with a suitcase full of tools. He offered to build a custom chifforobe, and that simple encounter helped move the Winter family in a new direction.

What began with custard, coffee, and a friendly hello eventually grew into a furniture business built on the same idea: welcome people well, listen closely, and help them find something that truly fits their home.

Jamie and Jeff Winter | 3rd Generation Local Owners

The Tradition Continues

A lot has changed since “Howdy Come In.”

Furniture and mattress shopping is bigger, faster, and filled with more choices than ever.

At the Furniture Mall, one thing hasn't changed: our belief that helping people is more important than selling furniture. Guests are invited to explore at their own pace, enjoy fresh-baked cookies and homemade custard, and when they're ready, work with Home Solution Specialists and Sleep Specialists who ask the right questions, listen, understand, and help guests get it right. That's been the Winter family way since 1933—and it's still what makes guests say, “Oh Yeah!”

Buying furniture should be about creating a home you'll love coming home to.

Endless Choices.
Finding the Right One...
That's Where We Come In.

We Help You Get it Right

Thousands of choices. One confident decision.

Furniture shopping has never offered more possibilities. Thousands of styles, fabrics, finishes, comfort levels, and price points are just a click—or showroom visit—away. But more choices don't always make the decision easier.

Our Home Solution Specialists ask thoughtful questions, listen carefully, and narrow the options to the ones that fit you best—so you can make confident decisions you'll love for years to come. Because creating a home you love starts with getting it right. Oh Yeah!

A Better Way to Furnish a Room

Oh Yeah!

A well-furnished room rarely happens by accident. It is measured, considered, adjusted, and shaped around the people who live there. The sofa has to sit well in the room. The chairs need to invite conversation. The rug should hold the space together. The lighting should soften the edges. And somewhere between the fabrics, finishes, dimensions, and delivery dates, the room needs to feel like home.

That is where The Furniture Mall's complimentary design service begins.

It is not a luxury add-on or a distant decorator service. It is a practical, in-store resource for anyone who wants to make better decisions before buying furniture. Customers are paired with a Home Stylist who helps turn loose ideas, saved photos, measurements, and half-formed plans into a room that works.

The process starts with listening. A stylist asks how the room is used, who lives there, what needs to stay, what needs to change, and what kind of feeling the customer wants to create. Some people arrive with a folder full of inspiration. Others bring a few phone photos and a problem they cannot quite solve. Both are enough.

From there, the work becomes more precise. Measurements are reviewed. Layouts are explored. Colors, fabrics, finishes, rugs, lamps, and accent pieces are considered together rather than one item at a time. It is a calmer way to shop, especially for customers who know what they like but are not sure how to make it all fit.

One of the most useful parts of the service is the ability to see the room before the furniture arrives. With 5D room planning,

The Furniture Mall's complimentary design service brings clarity, confidence, and a trained eye to the home.

The Furniture Mall can create a virtual version of the space, helping customers understand scale, flow, and arrangement before making final decisions. A sectional can be tested against a wall. A dining table can be placed in proportion. A chair can be swapped, shifted, or rethought.

This matters because furniture decisions are physical decisions. A piece may look right on the showroom floor but feel too large at home. A color may seem safe on its own but fall flat beside the flooring. A room can have beautiful pieces and still feel unfinished if they do not speak to one another.

A Home Stylist helps connect those pieces.

The service is especially helpful for new homes, open floor plans, awkward corners, mixed styles, or rooms that have slowly become a collection of almost-right choices. It can also help couples or families find common ground when tastes differ. The goal is not to impose a look. It is to bring shape and direction to the customer's own sense of home.

Because The Furniture Mall carries furniture, mattresses, rugs, and accessories, the design conversation can move beyond a single sofa or table. A room can be planned as a whole, from the main pieces to the smaller details that make it feel settled. The result is less guesswork, fewer costly mistakes, and a space that feels considered from the start.

Good design does not have to feel intimidating. It can begin with a conversation, a few measurements, and someone who knows how to see the room clearly.

The Furniture Mall's complimentary design service is built around that simple idea: helping customers furnish with confidence.

Bring the photos. Bring the questions. Bring the room that has never quite come together.

The Furniture Mall will help you see what it can become.

See it. Before You Buy It.

Complimentary design guidance that helps you avoid costly mistakes and create a home you'll love. Imagine knowing exactly how your new room will look before you spend a penny. Our process is simple and enjoyable. We'll help you visualize your space, avoid expensive mistakes, and make confident decisions you'll love for years to come.

1

We Listen.

Every great room starts with understanding you. Bring photos, measurements, Pinterest boards, inspiration, or simply your ideas. Your Home Stylist will listen, ask thoughtful questions, and learn what matters most to you, your home, your lifestyle, and your budget.

2

We Measure.

Getting it right starts with getting it to fit. If you'd like, we'll visit your home to take precise measurements and note details like windows, walkways, doorways, staircases, and traffic flow—making sure everything works beautifully before you buy.

3

We Show You.

See your room before it becomes your room. Using advanced 5D room planning, we'll create a realistic view of your space so you can experiment with layouts, furniture, rugs, lighting, and décor. You'll know how everything works together before making a final decision.

4

We Bring It To Life.

When everything feels right, we'll help make it a reality. From furniture and mattresses to rugs, lamps, artwork, and finishing touches, we'll guide you through the final selections and deliver a room you'll love coming home to.

We'll help you find the Right One.

Because comfort isn't one-size-fits-all.

Few pieces shape a living room more than the sofa. It is where people gather, relax, talk, and spend much of everyday life, so choosing the right one takes more than liking how it looks on a showroom floor. Start with the practical pieces first: measure the room, the wall space, doorways, hallways, and the full path the sofa will take into your home. From there, think about layout. A sectional, loveseat, or traditional sofa can each change how the room works.

The right sofa should fit the rhythm of your household. A busy home with kids or pets may call for durable upholstery, easy-to-clean fabrics, and cushions that can handle daily use. A quieter room may allow for softer materials, lighter colors, or more delicate textures.

Some sofas are made for lounging and long evenings, while others are more upright and structured. The best choice depends on how the room is actually used.

Style still matters, but it should support the room rather than compete with it. Look closely at the arm shape, cushion construction, leg style, upholstery, and overall silhouette. Fabric offers the most variety, leather brings a timeless look, and performance materials are helpful where durability matters most. A well-chosen sofa should look right in the room, feel good every time you sit down, and hold up to the way you live.

What Makes Amish Furniture Different

Amish furniture isn't for everyone. But if you value quality, customization, and furniture that will last, it can make a lot of sense.

Most mass-produced furniture is built around convenience. You choose from pieces that have already been designed, manufactured, boxed, and stored in a warehouse. Amish furniture works differently. Many pieces can be made to fit your home, your style, and the way you live. You can often choose the wood, finish, size, hardware, and other details.

The biggest difference is how it's built. Amish furniture is carefully crafted from quality hardwoods using time-tested construction methods. It often costs more than ready-to-buy furniture, but it's made with a different expectation.

It's meant to be used, cared for, and kept.

That's where the value begins to make sense. A well-built table, dresser, bed, or cabinet can become a lasting part of your home. It can stand up to daily use, develop character over time, and remain useful long after trend-driven pieces have worn out.

Amish furniture may be a good fit if you want solid craftsmanship, timeless style, custom options, and something that feels more permanent. It may not be right if you need something inexpensive, lightweight, trendy, or available immediately. But when you want a piece that feels thoughtfully made and built for real life, it's worth a closer look.

Why Choose Amish Furniture

- ✓ Built from quality hardwoods using time-tested methods
- ✓ Customizable to fit your home, style, and needs
- ✓ Timeless craftsmanship that improves with age
- ✓ Made to be cared for, kept, and passed down
