Happy Retirement to Tim Collins!

We recently celebrated the retirement of our longtime Taylorville manager, Tim Collins, who retired in April after nearly seven years with Wright's Furniture and more than 25 years in the furniture industry.

Tim joined our team in 2019 following our acquisition of Jensen Home Furnishings, where he had built a successful career. He played an important role in helping guide the transition between the two companies and quickly became a valued member of the Wright's family.

We are grateful for Tim's dedication, leadership, and contributions to our company over the years. On behalf of everyone at Wright's Furniture & Flooring, we thank him for his service and wish him a happy, healthy, and well-deserved retirement.

Meet Nikki Carie

I've been with Wright's Furniture & Flooring as a Sales Consultant since October 2023. I enjoy helping customers find the perfect furniture and flooring for their home.

I feel truly blessed to work alongside a group of amazing people who have become much more than coworkers, they've become family. One of my favorite parts of my job is building relationships with my customers and helping them create spaces they love. I appreciate being part of a family-orientated company that genuinely cares about both its employees and customers.

I reside in Dieterich with my husband Brad and our 3 adorable French bull dogs.

I am a mother of 2 grown sons as well as 2 bonus sons. I have 5 beautiful grandchildren and one on the way in January.

When I'm not at work, I enjoy the simple things in life. Spending quality time with my family, grandchildren and friends and neighbors and all of the kiddos in the neighborhood that have become like grandchildren. I enjoy singing, thrifting, traveling, golf cart rides with my husband and playing with our pups. Honestly, just a simple life that I love.

Turning Your Lake House Into a Home Away From Home

As more families embrace hybrid work schedules and remote learning, lake houses are becoming much more than weekend getaways. Today, many homeowners are transforming their vacation properties into comfortable, functional spaces where they can work, relax and make lasting memories.

At Wright at Home, we've seen firsthand how families are spending more time at the lake throughout the year. Because of that, creating dedicated spaces for work, school and everyday living has become increasingly important. One of the biggest design trends we're seeing is the use of warm, earthy neutrals, including rich wood tones, deep blues and natural stone elements that create a welcoming and relaxing atmosphere.

When designing a lake home, functionality is just as important as style. Features like waterproof and pet-proof flooring help protect your investment from wet feet, spills and everyday wear and tear. Comfortable home office furniture can help create a productive workspace, while durable outdoor furniture and outdoor blinds help homeowners create inviting outdoor living areas that offer shade, privacy and protection from the elements.

Whether you're updating a single room or redesigning your entire lake house, thoughtful design choices can help transform your space into a true home away from home. At Wright at Home, our team is here to help you personalize every detail and create a space that fits your family's lifestyle for years to come.
