Wright's Furniture & Flooring

Generations of Comfort

For 136 years, Wright's Furniture & Flooring has been more than a store in Dieterich, Illinois—it's been a part of the fabric of family life across the region. Founded on small-town values and a passion for quality, Wright's has helped generations turn houses into homes, providing the sofas where families gather, the tables where milestones are celebrated, and the flooring where children take their first steps.

What began as a local business rooted in hard work and craftsmanship has grown into a trusted destination in Central Illinois for furniture and flooring. Yet, even as Wright's expanded, the family-owned company never lost sight of its mission: to offer comfort, style, and durability with the same neighborly service that defined its early days.

Today, Wright's is proud to serve not just the families who first shopped with them decades ago, but also their children and grandchildren. Walking through the showroom, it's easy to see how trends have changed over the years—but the heart of Wright's remains the same: helping every customer create a home they love, where memories are made for generations to come.

Meet Devin Wright

My journey with Wright's began when I was a teenager, sparking a lifelong dream to one day work at the family business full-time.

I started out sweeping floors in the warehouse when I was fourteen and I worked here through high school and even during college. Once I got my business degree, I decided to branch out and do my own thing, just to see what's out there, but I always knew I'd come back. Being here again feels like riding a bike. I'm re-learning many things I knew in the past, but with new technology and operations in place, and it's going great. I hope I can take what I've learned over the years to help take Wright's to the next level.

Before returning to Wright's, I spent nine years working in flooring merchandising and manufacturing, where I worked closely with vendors and gained a deep understanding of supply chains, product development, and retail impact. One of the clients I worked with was Wright's Furniture, so it feels like I never left.

I'm thrilled to be back on the sales floor, serving the same customers I've grown up around. I've always been close with my family, and now that I have a child of my own, it feels like the right time to come home. This is where I belong, and I'm here to stay.

LAYERING YOUR HOME Like Fall Fashion

Just like we swap sandals for boots and add cozy sweaters in autumn, our homes can benefit from a little seasonal layering too. Start with a neutral foundation, then bring in texture—think soft throws, velvet or boucle pillows, and a grounding area rug. Add warmth with woven baskets, candlelight, and accents in earthy tones or metallic finishes.

The team at Wright at Home, led by Taylor Wright, can help you layer your space perfectly, combining textures, colors, and accessories to create a home that's inviting, comfortable, and ready for crisp fall evenings —much like your favorite layered outfit.
